

This afternoon as you
are walking home,
Think back to right now
and remember this poem.

Stay near to the curb keeping safe from the street.
Look down by the road
and just follow your feet.

