

Children start to wear coats
made of flannel and wool, I get lost buttons and bows when seams start to pull.

Pencils and rulers are swept through my grate,
And notes to parents for homework that's late.

